A GREENHOUSE.

Practical Etructure at Small Cost.

This greenhouse was built for the purpose of supplying a country town And right to the center he scrawled this with cut flowers, but later young plants of tomatoes, cabbage and cauliflower were grown as an experiment. These proving successful, many vegetables were grown and put upon the home market some time before the gardeners had sowed the seed.

This greenhouse is perhaps large than most gardeners would need, being 60 by 80 feet. The main entrance is from the south, there being two walks two and a half feet wide, each
